ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERVISING ARCHITECT OF THE TREASURY.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF SUPERVISING ARCHITECT,
Washington, August 31, 1918.

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith the annual report of the operations of the Supervising Architect's Office for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918.

In the annual report of this office for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1917, attention was invited to the fact that abnormal conditions which had prevailed throughout the period covered by that report had unfavorably affected the rate of progress in the construction of public buildings.

Before the close of the fiscal year 1917 the United States had declared war against Germany, and throughout the entire period covered by this report the paramount demands of the Government for war purposes have drawn upon every class of labor and material essential to construction work and upon the transportation facilities of the country to such an extent as seriously to retard work upon public buildings in course of construction.

Because of the abnormal increase, due to the war, in the cost of labor and material entering into the construction of public buildings, and with a view to curtailing the expenditure of public funds for purposes which could be postponed for the time being without material detriment to the public interests, this office was directed, under date of December 26, 1917, to place no new buildings or extensions of buildings under contract unless the urgency therefor was established to the satisfaction of the department.

In connection with and necessarily incident to the order above referred to, estimates for appropriations aggregating approximately four and one-half million dollars, which had previously been submitted to Congress for construction work on more than 117 buildings were withdrawn.

Notwithstanding the disturbed condition of the labor and material markets it was found possible, in connection with the buildings and extensions placed under contract during the period covered by this report, to adhere to the previous practice of this department of awarding contracts at lump-sum prices on competitive bids. The increased cost to the Government in these cases above the cost of similar buildings in normal times is not considered to be out of proportion, considering the risks which the contractors are obliged to assume under the lump-sum basis of contracting.

While the postponement of the building program of this office has affected the field force and has resulted in a reduction of the number of superintendents of construction, there has been no diminution of the activities of the office proper. The difficulties encountered in carrying on construction work under existing conditions on upward of 100 public buildings has burdened the clerical force of the office with a tremendous amount of correspondence, while the technical force has been called upon to handle a large number of projects of a special character. Much of this work has been for other departments, for purposes more or less directly connected with the war, and such services were rendered under the authority contained in section 35 of the so-called omnibus public building act, approved June 25, 1910, which reads as follows:

> That hereafter the Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, upon the request of the head of any other executive department or establishment of the Government not under any executive department, cause the plans, drawings, designs, specifications, and estimates to be prepared in the office of the Supervising Architect for any building or buildings for governmental purposes which the head of any other executive department or establishment not under an executive department may be authorized to have constructed: Provided, That the proper appropriations for the support and maintenance of the office of the Supervising Architect be reimbursed for the cost of such work.

The act entitled "An act to authorize the President to provide housing for war needs," approved May 16, 1918, provides among other things:

> That whenever it is practicable to use any part of the office or field force of the office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department in or about any of the work contemplated by this act the President shall do so.

Under the authority above referred to this office has so far only been called upon to render technical services to a very limited extent

In addition to the foregoing, the technical force of the office has been engaged to such extent as has been possible upon the work of preparing designs, plans, estimates, and specifications for buildings authorized to be constructed under the control of the Treasury Department. This work is being carried forward to the point of readiness to advertise for bids when the time is reached for the resumption of building operations.

The obstacles encountered, due to abnormal conditions in carrying on construction work on public buildings which tended to impede progress, have been so far overcome as to permit of a rate of progress averaging a building or extension completed and ready for occupancy every five days approximately.

The small number of buildings and extensions placed under contract during the year is in part due to the postponement, under the order of December 26, 1917, of building operations, and in part to the fact that prior to the date thereof, in some sections of the country where large building operations for the Government were in progress or in the vicinity of munition plants and like establishments where high prices were being paid for labor, building costs were found to be practically prohibitive.

Attention is invited to the following summary:

Completed during the year
Buildings	68
Extensions and remodeling projects	4
Total	72
Placed under contract during the year
Buildings	28
Extensions and remodeling projects	2
Total	30

At the close of the year covered by this report the public buildings under the control of the Treasury Department numbered close to 1,200. The work devolving upon this office in connection with their furnishing, equipment, maintenance, care, and repair is of increasing magnitude and importance.

During the past winter, notwithstanding the fuel shortage and the severity of the season, there was no public building under the control of the Treasury Department that was not sufficiently supplied with fuel or heat. When it became evident in the early summer of 1917 that it would be impossible to obtain fuel through the ordinary channels for more than about one-half of the public buildings by contracting therefor locally, the cooperation of the Fuel Administration and State and local fuel administrators was sought, and through those agencies, in conjunction with custodians cooperating with the force of this office, the most gratifying results were obtained.

The custodians' forces in public buildings are compensated from a lump-sum appropriation, and are among the poorest paid employees of the Government. This appropriation, even with the 5 and 10 per cent allowance to custodians' employees, in common with certain other employees of the Government, was not sufficient to permit of fixing rates of compensation corresponding with the pay allowed by States, municipalities, and owners of private property for similar services or which under existing war conditions was readily commanded in unskilled occupations.

Because of the higher standard of wages paid on the outside it was found increasingly difficult to obtain and retain sufficient employees to care for public buildings. Numerous complaints were, and continue to be, received from custodians concerning their inability to keep competent members of their forces at the rates of compensation allowed. As there appears to be no prospect that the labor conditions will improve in the immediate future it is apparent that unless more adequate appropriations are provided the problem of properly caring for the public buildings under the control of the Treasury Department will soon become a serious and embarrassing one.

The lump-sum appropriation from which practically the entire technical force of this office is compensated limits the maximum and minimum rates that can be paid. Great difficulty has been experienced since the war in filling vacancies in this force, because other departments are paying in some instances higher entrance salaries than the maximum salaries that can be paid from our appropriation. A similar condition prevails with respect to a number of statutory clerical positions the compensation attached to which is less than $1,200 per annum. It has been found extremely difficult to fill vacancies in these lower grades of the office because of the more attractive entrance salaries paid in other branches of the service. The readjustment of salaries of a portion of the technical and clerical forces appears necessary to maintain a proper and satisfactory organization.

I desire again to place on record my appreciation of the loyal support given me by the entire organization of this office.

The following statements show in general the projects authorized by Congress, and in detail the financial operations of the Office of the Supervising Architect for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918:

PUBLIC BUILDINGS UNDER THE CONTROL OF THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

STATEMENT OF BUILDINGS OCCUPIED, IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION AND AUTHORIZED, INCLUDING SITES, ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY, IN TWO DIVISIONS.

DIVISION A.—Statement of legislative authorizations and appropriations, with notes relative to the acquisition of sites, the progress of the work, and other pertinent features. (Associated with Division B by corresponding location numbers.)

DIVISION B.—Statement of expenditures for buildings—construction and annual repairs, etc.—and sites, showing outstanding obligations and balances, with notes as to surplus fund deposits, and other features. (Associated with Division A by corresponding location numbers.)

MEMORANDA.

1. For separate classification of buildings, by titles, showing in the aggregate the expenditures, etc., for each class, see Addenda following Divisions A and B.

2. The star (*) in the column embracing expenditures for construction (Division B) indicates the original cost of the completed building. Other figures in this column represent work in progress or incomplete projects.

3. In the case of sites purchased under the act of May 30, 1908, and subsequent acts, the dates given in the column "Date of purchase" (Division B) are those upon which the Treasury warrants in payment for said sites were delivered to the vendors. Title is vested in the United States upon these dates.

4. In connection with some of the very old buildings, and with reference to a number of quarantine stations, including also a few lots of ground, the specific legislative authorizations, if any, are difficult of ascertainment. Sites were purchased, and buildings erected, in the earlier days, in some instances, at the expense of general appropriations, and hence no separate legislative record exists of these. Such data as are obtainable relative to these items are given in Division A.

DIVISION B.—Statement of expenditures for building (construction and annual repairs, etc.) and sites, showing outstanding obligations and balances, with notes as to surplus-fund deposits, and other features. (Associated with Division A by corresponding line numbers).

[Star (*) indicates original cost of completed buildings.]
